

A Word

Like As Not

LIKE AS NOT: A stupid phrase,
Devoid of verb and meaning.
It surely pays to end its days:
Let's do some interfering.

A pointless as is what it has.
Like what? Not what? It's horribly
Unclear, my dear. Let's end it here.
In future, let's say probably.

Singular Plurality

IT'S hard if you're trying to say
What's happened to grammar today.
But a child or a man –
Though singular – can
Be promptly referred to as they.
