

A Word

The Lesser Limerick

Less is a word under stress –
Comparative anguish, I'd guess.
Pursuing the narrative,
Less itself is comparative,
Though lesser is more less than less.

Clerihew Collapse

SEVENTEEN syllables enthuse
The man creating clerihews.

At least, they would, but he has seen
He's only totted up sixteen –

Though he has tried with all his might
To concentrate and get it right.

He's now decided to abort
His effort and remain one short.
